Active Trading

The Associated Press
On June 22, the stock market closed with a general advance. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.34 points to 114.12. The volume of trading was moderate, with about 100 million shares changing hands. The market was buoyed by a strong performance by the steel and automobile industries, which were expected to report better earnings for the first half of the year. The government's recent report on the economy, showing a continued recovery, also contributed to the upward movement. However, some caution was still evident in the market, with investors watching for any signs of a slowdown or inflationary pressures. The bond market also showed a slight improvement, with yields remaining relatively stable.

Mr. Sawyer, a prominent figure in the political arena, is seen as a potential opponent of Davey. Sawyer is currently working on mending fences with various political groups and is expected to announce his candidacy for the next year's election. The political landscape is becoming increasingly competitive, with several key figures vying for the top position. Sawyer's experience and leadership skills are highly regarded, making him a formidable opponent for anyone running against him.

RELIEF CHECKS TO BE MAILED

Number Amounts for First Half of July Announced by County Director

The county director has announced the amounts for the first half of July relief checks. The checks are being mailed to the recipients, who are primarily low-income families and the elderly. The amounts vary depending on the household size and the specific needs of the recipients. The director expressed gratitude for the community's support and the generosity of the donors who contribute to the relief fund.

CARD PARTY HELD IN CALIDONIA HOME

The Calidonia Home for the aged held a card party on June 21. The event was a success, with many guests attending and enjoying the evening. The proceeds from the party will be used to support the home's operations and provide better care for its residents. The home's staff and volunteers are committed to providing a warm and supportive environment for the elderly.

LIVESTOCK

Producers' Market
The livestock market showed a steady decline in prices for various types of cattle and hogs. The demand for beef cattle remains strong, but the prices have been pressured by a surplus of supply. For hogs, the market is also seeing a decline, with prices falling below previous levels. Poultry prices are also showing a downward trend, with some breeds seeing significant drops. Overall, the livestock market is in a bearish state, with producers looking for a recovery in the near future.

PRODUCE

Local Produce
The local produce market is showing a mix of price movements. Some vegetables, like tomatoes and cucumbers, are seeing price increases due to a shortage of supply. However, other items like lettuce and onions are becoming more abundant, leading to a decrease in their prices. The market is expected to stabilize in the coming weeks as the supply of various crops increases.

GRAIN PRICES RECEDE IN FAIRER WEATHER

Better Prospects for Corn Crop Also Has Bearish Effect on Quotations

Grain prices have receded in fairer weather. The weather is becoming more favorable for the growing season, which is a positive sign for farmers. However, the market for grain is still facing challenges, with prices for corn and wheat showing a downward trend. The bearish effect on quotations is likely due to concerns about the overall state of the economy and the demand for grain. Farmers are hoping for a recovery in prices as the weather continues to improve.

Camping The Calendar Is Slogan of Scouting

Harding Area Troops Use Camp Owens in Winter as Well as Summer Months

Camping the calendar is the slogan of the camping committee of the Harding area council of Boy Scouts of which Dr. Frank R. Mann of 214 South Vine street is chairman.

Not only do Boy Scouts camp during the summer months for a week or more but overnight hikes and weekend camps are conducted by troop leaders throughout the spring, fall and winter months. He explained.

A trip to Camp John A. Owens south of Marion this week gave an insight into the enthusiasm displayed by the scouts and their leaders for the open life which they lead.

Fort four acres of beautiful land much of it heavily wooded are at disposition which no real boy or man can resist. The tract was given to the Boy Scouts as their property by C. A. Owens as a memorial to son John A. Owens who said that the gift be made just before he died in Phoenix, Ariz.

Fully Accredited Camp
The camp is a fully accredited Boy Scout camp with a 17 phone cabins, by the national council. There are now 11 cabins, a spring, fed swimming pool, a council ring, a pump house which keeps the pond water changing constantly and it used trails for archery, canyons and other contests suitable to the surroundings.

Boys at the camp have discovered 33 species of birds and 18 species of native trees on their wooded camp site.

Last year in a six week camping period 27 boys enjoyed the privileges of roughing it and this year with the period extended to seven weeks it is anticipated that approximately 100 boys will take part.

Since the first official camp of the Harding area council was held in the summer of 1926 more than 2,000 scouts have camped there during the summer and many more have made overnight camps week end and winter camps and campsites.

This year the camp periods have been set as follows: Monday July 3 Saturday July 7 Monday July 8 Saturday July 13 Monday July 15 Saturday July 20 Monday July 23 Saturday July 27 Monday July 29 Saturday Aug. 3 Monday Aug. 5 Saturday Aug. 10

The jamboree training camp will be conducted from Aug. 5-9 in preparation for the national jamboree in Washington, D. C. Aug. 21-30.

Periods Selected
The periods already selected by the various districts of the council are as follows: July 1-6 Wyandotte county troops 20 22 25 29 37 July 8-13 Morrow district troops 27 30 32 33 34 35 July 15-20 Coward district troops 19 21 31 35 fourth and sixth periods Morrow district troops.

A boy who is planning to attend camp needs the essential scout uniform (shirts, trousers, bathing suit, swim trunks, change of unders or pajamas, toilet articles, poncho or raincoat and blankets. The council suggests that it be handy to have a scout handbook, flashlight, scout knife, compass, camera, insect repellent, mosquito net and pencil to fully enjoy the camping out.

In the matter of scouting, Mr. Mann as camping committee chairman addressed the following letter to all scoutmasters and troop committee men.

Camping is America's accepted program for boys and troop camping is the accepted method of the Boy Scouts of America.

No month should pass without the troop having some outdoor scouting either a day hike or overnight camp. The week's camp however is the high point in the troops yearly program and we trust you are planning for this important activity of your troop.

"Troop camping, requires more of the troop leadership than sending your boys away to some professional camp. Relying this too, council meets you more than half way in this important program by providing on the scout reservation.

Camp John A. Owens—equipment, facilities and trained camp counselors to you and your troop may camp safely and enjoy the fun of camping without all the detail and responsibilities that must be met.

Standards Are Strict

As you know, the national council of the Boy Scout of America is very strict in the observance of definite minimum camping standards and that troops doing long camping secure a permit from the camp committee showing that these will be met. Let us know if you contemplate a troop camp other than at Camp John A. Owens so we can help you. Our 51 acre scout reservation meets the standards and is an approved camp of the Boy Scouts of America with a B plus rating by the national camping council.

All realize that the council is making available to troops an exceptional opportunity for camping at a very low figure. We hope you will take advantage of this chance for adventure, fun and training for your scouts.

Once again as summer days are here we hope you will plan to go camping. Only in this way can you really know your scouts and find the adventure and fascination of scouting. As previously the council charges no camp fee for scout leaders. We hope you can plan to be in camp with your boys.

Our camping committee is ready to aid you in every way. Troop camping is the national plan of scout camping, rather than the many types of camp. The plan which is followed by the Harding area council the scout leader who is in charge of the boys throughout the year remains in charge of the troops summer adventures. The camp provides the safe location and swimming and the equipment such as lodges or tents needed and the camp staff provide an expert assistance to the scout leader.

The values of the troop camp according to Arthur S. Brown, executive and camp director of the Harding area are: Troop camping, encourages and strengthens the troop and gives more troop leaders an active part in the camp program, trains scouts in team work with their own troop develops and trains troop leadership by the scout method of learning by the doing, helps troop officers and councilmen to accept a larger responsibility in planning and operating the council camp reservation, helps make possible a larger investment in program and scout part of each troop and patrol throughout the whole year troop camping by a recognition of the troop as such, secures greater individual backing and support of the troop which is the basic unit and the interest of the parents in scouting.

INFORMATION ON SCOUT MOVEMENT

For those who do not know and who wish information here are quotations from the scout manual.

The Boy Scouts of America is a corporation founded by a group of men who are anxious that the boys of America be built up in all that goes to make character and good citizenship. It is obligatory upon the scouts that they cultivate courage, loyalty, patriotism, brotherhood, self control, courtesy, kindness to animals, usefulness, cheerfulness, cleanliness, thrift, purity, honor.

The aim of the boy scouts is to supplement the various existing educational agencies and to promote the ability in boys to do things for themselves and others.

SOCIETY'S DUTY

The measure of our manhood is largely determined by the experience of our youth. Society can expect to reap from its citizens what it sows in the lives of its boys and girls. It is folly to blame young people as a whole for what they are doing if they go wrong; it means that society is missing its big opportunity.

SCOUTS HONOR

Admiral Byrd has been twice by the Boy Scouts of America. In 1927 he was awarded the highest honor of the Council for distinguished service to boyhood. Admiral Byrd is an honorary member of the national council.

IN HONOR of the BOY SCOUTS of AMERICA

SILVER JUBILEE CELEBRATION

The year 1935 marks the Twenty-Fifth Birthday celebration of the Boy Scouts of America. During these years the value of this organization in character building and in training for citizenship has made itself a vital factor in the life of America. The Boy Scout training insures for our nation a future citizenry of public spirited young men ready to accept the responsibility of leadership and imbued with the traditions of the men who helped to build America. The millions of boys in the boy scout ranks will grow up "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight" into an army of unselfish leaders and intelligent voters.
